

- We created a screen called HomeScreen and added the imports, text to speech, render, return, and the stylesheet.
- For the text to speech, everytime someone will open the app it will say something along the lines of, "Welcome, choose what you would like to work on"
- The background is light blue with an image of a girl thinking, and a pink header stating "Bye Bye Procrastination".
- We also have App.js which is for imports, exports, and stylesheets.
